Membership prices

The Region does accept credit card payments for membership registration. A convenience fee for this option will be added to each membership. If a credit card is not used for membership payment, and a member chooses to pay cash or check, the price that appears is not the cash discounted price.

When a member chooses to pay their membership with a credit card, the membership will be activated immediately. Contact the Region office if you are hesitant about entering your credit card information online. If a membership chooses to pay with cash or check, they must send membership fees to region office. Upon receipt of the fee at the office, the membership will be activated the day the membership is received at the office. (This process could add two or more days before your membership is activated.)

For a list of this year's membership prices, see the Great Plains Region website.
